EVY. 17/5.

I agree with the Secy. L.A. that there is no objection to payment of allowances being made to the members of legislature during the currency of a session of a chamber or of a meeting of a Committee and no amendment of the Rules is necessary. There is no prohibition in the Rules against the preferring of a bill during the currency of a session of a Chamber or of a meeting of a Committee. It is true that Rule 18 requires the Secy. to furnish to A.G. full information regarding the number of days of attendance of each member and the duration of the session or a meeting after the close of every session ~~if~~ of every meeting. This does not however mean that the Secy. is precluded from furnishing such information during the currency of such session or meeting. In fact it would appear from the proviso added to this rule in April 1947 that the scheme of the Rules is to facilitate payment of allowances to the members according to their convenience The proviso expressly permits a member to draw his allowance during the midst of a session or a meeting on an application to the Secy. and on his obtaining a certificate of attendance from the Secy. The proposed reply appears to be in order.
